

Guests Shouldn't Have Reservations When Booking Reservations

From Fewer Vacancies to Higher Rents, RezSoft Helps Property Reach Its Full Potential

Have Reservations About RezSoft?

Give Guests Peace of Mind

A guest's stay begins the moment they make the reservation. RezSoft allows property owners to provide potential customers with up-to-the-minute availability, specials, and rates information. Additionally, RezSoft's reliable and easy-to-use booking engine gives guests confidence in a pleasant stay before they even pack their bags.

Make Your Property Stand Out

RezSoft gathers every deciding factor your guest needs and puts it in one convenient location. With no need to call for rates, availability, or property information, their search ends the instant they find your website. When guests do decide to stay at your property, they automatically receive a customized e-mail confirmation again, making them confident they made the right choice. And with everything available on-line, you can save time by letting your property virtually sell itself.

Software to Accommodate Any Number of Properties

Whether you are an individual property owner or a multi-unit property manager, RezSoft's reservations program will work for you. Create custom newsletters, even boost underperformance with property specific rate specials all within a template that complements the design of your website.

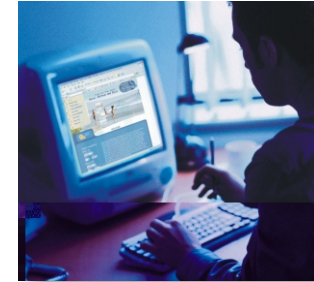

Additionally, RezSoft's technical support team responds swiftly to ensure even the least computer savvy property manager can operate his or her system with ease. Whether you are a single property owner or a manager of hundreds, RezSoft is sure to provide a boost in both occupancy and customer satisfaction.

Manage Reservation Data with Ease

Every time a reservation is made, a wealth of data is made available. If properly managed, this information can be utilized to set future rates, create specials during slower seasons, and even invite previous guests back for another stay. RezSoft makes managing data painless.

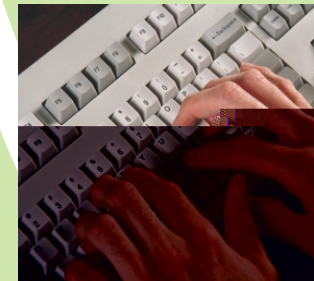

If you can operate a mouse, you can run reports based on booked, canceled, or pending reservations. Searching for a reservation is simple and can be done by last name, specific property, credit card number...you name it. You'll have full control setting rates, editing reservations, and updating property information of a booking engine that seamlessly transitions the customer from your website.
